

The Week's News AT HOME AND ABROAD.

—Several carloads of cattle have been shipped west to Maple Creek.

—Mr. Jas. Scott went west to Morley on Tuesday morning on business.

—We understand that the Brassy estate has passed into the hands of the C.P.R.

—Mennonites are asking the Government for more lands in the Prince Albert district.

—Forty men went from Battleford to Prince Albert, 140 miles, to meet Hon. Mr. Laurier.

—Bishop Burn is at present on a pastoral visit to Fort Pelly, and is expected to return on the 15th inst.

—Some British papers think it time for European powers to prevent Japan from permanently crippling China.

—M. R. Meredith, leader of the Ontario Opposition, has been appointed Chief Justice of the Divisional Court of Appeal.

—The German Kaiser is allowed a salary of $3,352,000 a year, which is just twice the amount granted by the British Parliament to Queen Victoria.

—Dick French has been trotting in Ontario, and not without success. Last week he won a free-for-all purse at Qu'Appelle, Ont., in three straight heats.

—Sir William Van Horne thinks that the low standard fixed for this year's crops is the cause of the difference in the price of Manitoba and Dakota wheat.

—Mrs. Jas. McNaughton, having received news of the serious illness of her mother in Ontario, left for the east on Sunday night. In all probability her absence will extend over the winter.

—A new theatrical artist has established himself in town in the shop immediately south of Mr. McGurk's saddlery, where he will be found at all times ready to attend to the faces of his customers.

—Mr. W. Henderson has succeeded in selling his farm to a Mr. Peterson, at present a member of the N.W.M.P. It is not certain as to whether or not Mr. Peterson will take up his residence thereon this fall.

—There is to be an important meeting of the South Qu'Appelle Liberal-Conservative Association in the Immigration Building at 2 o'clock on Saturday next. For particulars see advertisement in another column.

—Professor Robertson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, is expected in Qu'Appelle in a few days. A deputation comprising equal numbers from the Board of Trade and Agricultural Society will interview him to enquire.

—An old familiar face was to be seen on the streets last Friday in the person of Mr. James Buckham, looking hale and hearty. Mr. Buckham will not represent the McMillan Bros. at this point this year, Mr. Bulvey having been appointed their buyer.

—The attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement in our local columns announcing a lecture to be delivered in the Presbyterian Church on Monday, 15th inst., by the Rev. Mr. Dyke. The subject will no doubt prove of much interest to many.

—We have much pleasure in stating that Mr. Robert Craig, of Elgley, succeeded in taking the following prizes at the Fort Qu'Appelle annual agricultural fair:—First prize for Durham cow, first for yearling heifer (Durham), first for yearling bull calf.

—We are given to understand that Mr. H. F. Boyce has leased the St. John's College property, and that it will be continued as an Agricultural College. We are also informed that Mr. Boyce has the promise of a large number of pupils. It is to be hoped for Mr. Boyce's sake that the institution will be run on more business like lines than heretofore. If so, there will be a reasonable hope for success.

—Charles Snowden, a tramp, who was beating his way westward, met with a bad accident a few days ago which will probably render him a cripple for the rest of his life. He was stealing a ride on a C.P.R. freight train between Cochrane and Morley, when he fell from a car and his left leg was broken and the right ankle badly crushed. He was taken to Banff and attended by a doctor.

—An explosion in a Hoboken saloon exploded the other afternoon and scattered destruction everywhere. It appears that a Limburger cheese had been placed in the icebox shortly before the explosion, and it blew up. Why should not such Limburger do as a filling for shell ammunition? Some European has invented a compound which, when liberated by the exploding shell, asphyxiates whole armies at once. Perhaps it is a Limburger extant that he uses.

—Come and hear the Rev. J. Dyke in the Presbyterian Church on Monday next. Subject of address: "The working of the Upper Canada Bible Society." To commence at 8 p.m. All are invited. —Adv.

—Here is one way of marrying in England. A young man advertises, "Wanted, rich lady—age of no account—who will financially aid a student of medicine until such time as he will take his degree, when he engages to marry his benefactress."

—Mr. A. T. Robinson, B.A., who has had charge of the Baptist congregation at this point during the summer, preached on Sunday evening for the last time during his present stay. There was a large congregation, and the sermon was much appreciated.

—Hartley Gishorne, Esq., District Superintendent Government Telegraph Service, returned from his official trip on Friday last. He has been exposed to some rough weather, which must have detracted from any pleasure there was connected with the journey.

—On Sunday, about midday, a freight train going west ran over two head of cattle about one mile west of the town. One was immediately killed; the other at midday on Monday was still lingering in agony. In the interest of humanity, was it not the duty of the section men to have seen to this?

ANNUAL FAIR.

As we go to press the South Qu'Appelle Agricultural Fair is in progress. All that we can at present say is that it most unquestionably is, in every way, the most successful affair of the kind that has ever taken place in Qu'Appelle, or anywhere else in the North-West for that matter. The attendance was good, the weather fine. Time precludes our saying any more on the matter until the next issue, when a full report will appear.

INDIAN HEAD.

The concert in aid of the Library Fund netted $22.

Mrs. Andrews and Mr. F. L. Osler, Qu'Appelle, were here Tuesday.

Mrs. Allan McGilvery leaves for England at the end of this month.

A concert will be held in Wide Awake Schoolhouse on Friday next. Admission 35 cents.

Rev. J. K. Welsh has resigned his pastorate of the Presbyterian Church, and intends to study law.

Miss Maud Crawford returned Saturday morning, after a lengthy absence, during which she visited England and the eastern provinces of Canada.

Clem Peltier finished burning the last kiln at the brick yard last Friday, and will have 300,000 bricks wherewith to commence next season's business. The industry, while not productive of marked profit this season, proved sufficiently encouraging to warrant extended operations next year.

The officers of the Indian Head Reading Room were re-elected at a meeting held Monday night. Their names are as follows:—Dr. Kemp, president; J. B. Peterson, secretary; A. E. Wilson, treasurer; Mrs. Stutter, Mrs. Grimmer, D. Macoun, G. Thompson and T. T. Grimmer, managing committee; H. H. Campbell, auditor.

After a residence of nine years in Fort Qu'Appelle, Rev. Alex. Robson has decided to locate permanently in Indian Head. He will immediately build, and in future seek to promote the advancement of mission work in the Territories by issuing a religious publication from this point. The rev. gentleman has just returned from a six months' trip to the Old Country, and is at present a guest of Rev. J. K. Welsh.

The following communication speaks for itself:—"Reading Room, Indian Head. I stand prepared to erect a building suitable for use as a reading room for Indian Head. I would give or lend the building to a committee or other elected body. I would supply a certain selection of newspapers and periodicals. It would be considered by the committee whether they could command sufficient resources to run the building. It would be a great pleasure to co-operate with Miss Crawford, the originator of this movement. —BRASSEY."

A marriage notice reached your correspondent unfortunately too late for insertion last week. The contracting parties were Mr. Charles Rodgers, whose farm lies north of Indian Head, and Miss Lucy Gale, formerly of London, England. In Katepaw's pretty situated Episcopal Church the nuptial knot was tied, Rev. Mr. Menno officiating, while, in the absence of immediate relatives, Mr. Wm. Stephens, the progressive and opulent farmer, and member of Indian Head Municipal Council, gave the bride away. After the wedding breakfast, the happy couple left for their home, amid showers of rice and old shippers. The bride, arriving from England six weeks ago, has been the guest of Conductor Stephens. During this period, those who have enjoyed the privilege of frequent association with her speak in highest terms, not only of her marked intellectuality, but of a winsomeness of disposition which challenges admiration and forthwith creates warm friendships. Unquestionably Mr. Rodgers is to be congratulated on winning an extremely pretty helpmate.

SPENCERVILLE.

A. Spencer is the guest of F. B. Hutton this week.

Miss E. Gates returned from Indian Head on Saturday.

Blakeney Castle will seem rather deserted since Mr. Watson has taken his departure.

Farmers in this section are rather late in taking up their potatoes. Mr. I. Hardy, S. Bailey and others having some acres under ground.

The late snowstorms have caused a general stampede amongst stock. Mr. Geo. Bailey and others having lost a number of cattle.

Mr. Howard E. Watson left on Sunday for Liverpool, England, where he will meet Mrs. Watson and tour through Scotland for a time.

Mr. William McMichael left on Sunday night's train for North Ireland, where he will probably reside in future. We join with Bill's many friends in wishing him a safe journey, and cannot but hope to see him back again.

One of Spencerville's most popular bachelors gave a New England Supper the other evening. A couple of young ladies were invited, but failed to put in an appearance after the gentlemen going to so much trouble and expense.

GREENPOLL.

Mr. W. H. Nelson returned from England last Saturday.

Mrs. Phipps, of Estevan, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Marison.

Mrs. R. W. Francis, of Bonnie Brae, is visiting at Mr. R. E. Taylor's.

Rev. Mr. Lewis exchanged pulpits with the Rev. Mr. Irvine, of B. cadville, last Sunday.

The weather was so bad last Wednesday that the fall fair which was to have been held on that day was postponed until Thursday, the 11th inst.

Rev. T. G. McLeod preached his first anniversary sermon last Sunday in the Presbyterian Church. The attendance was small, owing to the very bad weather.

The parents of the girl Lena Bender, who is supposed to have committed suicide in Winnipeg, live in the German colony north of Grenfell, and are nearly distracted about it. Mrs. Bender went to Winnipeg on Thursday to make further enquiries about the affair, and to bring home a twelve-year-old daughter who is there.

Friday evening the Rev. Mr. McDougall gave an interesting lecture in the Methodist Church. His subject was "The North-West: past, present and future." Mr. McDougall has been in the country for over thirty years, and his graphic descriptions of life in the early days in the North-West was a treat to all who heard him. Should he come to our town again he will receive a hearty welcome.

Friday brought Hon. Wilfred Laurier and party, and nearly everybody for miles around, to town. In the morning an address of welcome was read, to which Mr. Laurier responded, and in the afternoon a monster mass meeting was held in the Agricultural Hall, at which Messrs. Laurier, Fisher, Gibson, Fraser and Sutherland spoke. The audience was very enthusiastic, and everybody was well pleased with the manner in which the questions of the day were handled.

A LITTLE GIRL'S ACCOUNT OF A PICNIC.

The following composition on "The last picnic attended" (the subject chosen for competitors at the Indian Head Agricultural show), written by Det. McLane, daughter of Mr. A. M. McLane, Indian Head, will no doubt be of interest to our readers:—

The last picnic I attended was given by the Methodist Sunday School at Qu'Appelle. Late in the afternoon of the preceding day there had been a shower, not gentle and patter, but a frightful outburst. The wind appeared to drive from all directions and the sky overhead was darkened by a great black cloud, which discharged torrents of rain. At last the wind left the bending trees in peace, and carried the dark shadowing cloud far away to return no more. Then Nature's magic work was begun. The setting sun shone forth in glorious brightness, making the rain drops on the grass sparkle like diamonds, and the different colors of the beautiful rainbow, which spanned the eastern sky, look far brighter. On the morning of the day appointed for the picnic, the hopes of the people, which had been blighted when they saw the rain, rose when they looked at the fresh greenness of the trees and grass, no longer dry and parched as they were only a few hours before. The picnic was a beautiful day before them, and soon after breakfast all were ready and the pleasure-seekers proceeded to the picnic grounds, a pleasant drive of three or four miles out of town. When the picnic grounds were reached, the ladies prepared a lunch on the grass, while the gentlemen made themselves useful by putting up swings and hammocks. Very soon lunch was ready and everyone sat down to the spread, where they got plenty of sandwiches, cake and lemonade. After lunch, the children played games but were afterwards called to try for the prizes given for racing, and those who were fortunate enough to come in first in the different races were delighted with the prizes they received. Among other races was a sack race which afforded much amusement. The gentlemen who took part in it were of all sizes, and as it happened, the big gentlemen got the small sacks and the big sacks the small gentlemen. At last the word rang out for them to start and away they went. All had almost reached the home spot when the first man fell over and tripped the one behind him, and one of the two who were down put out his feet and knocked over a small gentleman of no less than six feet in his socks, who did not wait to get up but crawled on his knees and won the race and went away very happy with his little prize trumpet. Some of the larger girls got on the hammock, which was made of barrel staves, and was very hard to hang on to. Two men were swinging the hammock, and when the girls who were on screamed for them to stop they did not heed, and the girls slipped off and could not be persuaded to get on again. The gentlemen did not forget their promise to get the tea, but after dropping a cake or two and spilling a pitcher of tea they backed out, and everybody had to get their tea the best way they knew how. After their tea the people started for home, but they did not enjoy the drive very much as the mosquitoes were very annoying.

TWO MONTHS FOR COAT STEALING.

On Friday last, before Magistrate Beauchamp and Broley, at Qu'Appelle, two strangers named Gordon Edwards and Charles Cumming were charged on the information of Corp. Holmes, the former with stealing a coat, the latter with being an accomplice, knowing the coat to have been stolen. Edwards pleaded guilty, and Cumming not guilty.

John Wismer stated that about 9 o'clock on Tuesday evening he hung his coat in the hall of the Queen's Hotel, and was with the prisoners from then until 12 o'clock. When he went upstairs he heard them whispering, and one went to the door and came back, then both went out. Witness went to the front floor upstairs and opened it, and watched one of them go up the street as far as Mrs. McLeish's store. Witness then shut the door and went to bed. About seven o'clock in the morning he missed the coat. He identified the coat produced as his property, and would not take less than $10 or $11 for it. He told Corp. Holmes of the loss on Wednesday morning. One of the prisoners, Gordon Edwards, was a little drunk on Tuesday night.

Corp. Holmes said that on Wednesday morning about 8 o'clock, John Wismer complained that he had missed his coat, and suspected two parties who had been around town the previous night of stealing it. He also informed witness that they had left by the express going west. After getting a description of the men and the coat, witness telegraphed the police in Regina to look out for them. About half past ten the same night he learned that they were in Balgonie, so went up on a freight train, and found the prisoners in a cattle car with the coat in their possession. Witness arrested them and warned them in the usual manner. Gordon Edwards said he had bought the coat from some person in Qu'Appelle, and had paid $3 for it. The coat was lying in the car. Since then Edwards told witness that he took the coat whilst drunk, and the other man did not have anything to do with it.

After a short consultation, the Bench sentenced Gordon Edwards to two months' hard labor in Regina jail, and acquitted the prisoner Charles Cumming.

LORLIE.

Capt. Weston has taken up his residence in Walseley for a time.

We were favored with a call from our old friend Mr. Glover, of Qu'Appelle Station.

Things were made rather lively by a runaway team belonging to Mr. W. Foster, and a general smash up of the mower was the result.

Maud S., owned by our popular bachelor, Mr. Cantein, carried off first prize at the exhibition held at Walseley on the 27th ult.

Mr. E. Bidlet has returned from Old England, looking well. He will run the stage for the winter between Walseley and Pleasant Forks.
